DEATH WINS BATTLE WITH JNO. GOELLER

Popular Young Resident of Circleville Succumbs After Hard Fight.

After four weeks of desperate fighting, death from pneumonia claimed the life of John Christian Goeller, Jr., Tuesday morning at 12:10 o'clock. His name had been on everyone's lips for the past three weeks during which he had been critically ill, and he was one of the most admired and friendly young men of the town.

His death takes from Circleville a man who was a leader in his church and civic affairs, and who had a most promising life before him with his wife Frieda Eckert Goeller and their two little children, Mary Carolyn and John Jr.

ACTIVE IN CHURCH
Mr. Goeller died at his home in Montclair, the new residential district which he helped to plan.

He was born October 21, 1896, in Circleville, the son of John C. and Mary Ebert Goeller, and married on June 25, 1921.

He was president of Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood, and a member of the vestry of that church. He also affiliated with the Elks, Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce, of Circleville, and the University Club at Columbus. He was a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity at University of Pennsylvania of which he was a graduate.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

In addition to his widow and two children, Mr. Goeller is survived by his father, John C. Goeller; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Beck of Circleville, Mrs. Louise Leist of Detroit, and Miss Catherine Goeller, a teacher at Bryan, O.; four brothers, Lawrence E., Carl and Elbert of Circleville, and Theodore of Tucson, Arizona.

Funeral services in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Ebert will be conducted at the Trinity Lutheran church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. G. J. Troutman will preach the sermon. The pallbearers will be N. T. Weldon, Clark Will, Harry Heffner, Joseph Noecker, John Bragg, Howard Orr, Dr. H. D. Jackson and D. Adrian Yates. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

CIGARET ADS ARE OPPOSED

Tobacco Firms' Copy Is Termed "Insidious" By Farmers' Institute.

Cigarets, county government and tariff regulations were the subjects of resolutions adopted by the Muhlenberg-twp institute at its annual gathering last week.

The institute went on record as condemning the insidious types of advertising used by cigarette companies to popularize the use of cigarettes by girls and young women.

It opposed any merging of county and township government that would be detrimental to county or local community government. The institute favored such market and tariff regulations as will place agriculture on the same basis as other industries.

Other resolutions thanked all persons and organizations which aided in the success of the institute and pledged support to worthy organizations which further and encourage community interests.

CRUELTY CHARGED IN DIVORCE ACTION

Charging that her husband, James R. Todd, had struck her with his fist; knocked her head against a wall until she had a headache for a week; reviled her, and openly provided her with two pairs of shoes, a pair of stockings and a hat since their marriage four years ago, Lois Todd has filed a suit for divorce in the Pickaway common pleas court.

The plaintiff asks for a divorce, the custody of their two children, Grace Margaret, aged three, and George Julian, aged two, and permanent alimony. She is represented by Attorney Tom A. Renick.

E. S. Roper who has been confined to his home by illness for the past two weeks is improved.

SEES SWEETHEART LEAP TO DEATH

Policewoman Margaret Wilson (left) tries to support Ruth Baylis, chorus girl on verge of collapse at inquest into death of her sweetheart, Fred Reynolds, actor, who hurled himself from hotel window in Chicago when she refused to kiss him.

DOG WARDEN IS APPOINTED

J. W. Chalfin Appointed To Position, Succeeding
Charles Buskirk.

J. W. Chalfin, of Circleville-twp, was appointed county dog warden at the regular meeting Monday of the Pickaway-co commissioners. He succeeds Charles Buskirk.

Mr. Chalfin, who posted $1000 bond, will start work immediately rounding up the unlicensed dogs in the county. He will work at the option of the commissioners and will receive $5 daily.

The following bills were allowed by the commissioners at the meeting:

HUNTING IS COSTLY

John Moore, Circleville, received two fines of $25 and costs Tuesday morning when he pleaded guilty to charges of killing a cock pheasant out of season and for hunting without a license on the Alexander Stevenson farm near the city in the court of Justice Edward Nothstine in Walnut St. He was arrested by W. A. Francis, deputy game protector.

MRS. STOUT DIES MONDAY

Illness of Five Years Is Ended By Death At Mill-st Home.

Mrs. Bridget (Bee) Stout, 84, widow of Solomon Stout, died at her home, 217 W. Mill-st at 8:50 p. m. Monday from a complication of diseases after five years' illness.

Mrs. Stout, who was a native of Ireland, came to Pickaway-co in 1866. Her parents were Patrick and Ellen Moran Duffy. She married Solomon Stout in Circleville on September 30, 1869.

A son Harry Stout, Circleville, survives.

Funeral services for Mrs. Stout will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic church of which Mrs. Stout was a life-long member, on Thursday at 9 a. m. Rt. Rev. J. S. Hannan will officiate. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The Albaugh Co. is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL GIVE FOUR PLAYS

Zander-Gump Wedding Will Be Feature of Tuesday Night Program.

The Zander-Gump Wedding and three one act plays, "The Drama," "Good Medicine" and "Her Country," interspersed with special numbers, will be presented in the high school auditorium Tuesday night by members of the public speaking and junior classes. In the Zander-Gump Wedding the characters will be recruited from newspaper comic strips.

Specialty numbers of dancing and singing will be given by Terry, Crowe, and Weaver.

Lynden Bauman will entertain with an old time dance. A special (musical) number will be offered by Mutt and Jeff (Malcolm Russell and Harold Dumm). John Terry and Howard Greeno will sing a duet.

Together with tap dancing there will be a singing quintet composed of Olive Weaver, Gladys Harris, Nina Cooper and Almedia Williams.

URGES STUDY FOR SUCCESS OF FARMERS

No Magic In Improving Productivity, Agricultural Week Speaker Says

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—Twenty years of effort toward improving the productivity of an Ohio farm have taught E. L. Zehring, Germantown farmer, that there is no magic formula which will accomplish his purpose, but that it can be attained "by continuous application of the better principles of farming."

Zehring was one of several Ohio farmers who, out of their experience, were speakers on the program of the seventeenth annual Farmers week program, being held on the campus of the Ohio State university here. Zehring enumerated as four factors which have been taken into account in the building up of his farm, drainage, use of fertilizers, preparation of seed bed and use of good seed.

Miss Juliette E. A. SH RMM C E. A. Gannon, dairy extension specialist of Purdue university, Indiana, addressed the animal husbandry group on the importance of using proved sires in dairy work. He reported that a study conducted by the Federal Bureau of Dairy Industry showed that it is a relatively simple matter to increase the production of dairy herds by the use of purebred sires, until the herds average 300 pounds of butterfat per cow a year.

MEAT SHOW STAGED

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation spent the greater portion of today in business sessions held down town. Several other associations and organizations commenced their annual meetings in connection with the Farmers' Week program.

The day's program was started at 8 o'clock this morning with a meat show, demonstrating the best and most economical cuts of meat, managed by the animal husbandry department of the university.

Prof. A. R. Winter of the poultry husbandry department was in charge of a demonstration of the use of the battery brooder system of caring for chicks—a new method which is gaining approval among poultry producers. G. S. Ray, federal livestock and crop reporter, explained the methods used in gathering the material for his reports and their importance to the farmer. Dr. D. C. Kennard of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, spoke on "Poultry House Equipment."

GOVERNOR IS SPEAKER

At the first general forenoon session of the visitors to Farmers' Week, held at 11 o'clock this morning, Myers Y. Cooper, governor of the state, was the speaker.

V. H. Davis of Port Clinton, president of the Ohio State Horticultural society, delivered his annual address before that organization this afternoon. The society commenced its annual meeting yesterday.

Tonight the annual banquet of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, with Governor Cooper and W. F. Schilling, president of the Twin Cities Milk Producers' association of St. Paul, Minn., as the principal speakers, will be held. At the same time the annual banquet of the state horticultural society will be held, and the Chilean Nitrate Educational Bureau will give a dinner in honor of the members of this year's 100-Bushel Corn Club and of the 16-Ton Sugar Beet Club. Students of the College of Agriculture of the university will present an entertainment program during the evening, for the visitors on the campus.

FIND AUTO USED TO HAUL STOLEN HENS

The Ford sedan of Elmer Ghene, reported stolen Monday night from its parking place on Mingo-st, was found by the local police early Tuesday on E. Franklin-st where it had been abandoned.

The police also found, in an alley off of N. High-st, a Ford sedan which had been stolen from Alec Hyer, Route 9, Washington, C. H. The seals of the car were covered with chicken feathers and the auto owner said that his car had been used to make away with hsi chickens.

Miss Blanche Heffner of Salt-creek-twp spent the past weekend with Pauline and Juanetta Hill on E. Mound-st.

Hunt Wastes For Body of Girl Believed Slain

At Left, W. W. Rogers and Ernie Aisman, who found blood-stained bag in which 10-year-old Edith Mae Diederf, missing from Terre Haute, Ind., carried her newspapers. At right, Busseron Creek, near Paxton, Ind., which was to be dragged and where search for girl centers. One thousand persons are aiding in hunt.

REV. CRABBE NEW PASTOR

Summit Station Minister Succeeds Harble at Atlanta and New Holland.

Rev. R. M. Crabbe, formerly minister for the Summit Station Methodist church, has accepted the pastorate of the Atlanta and New Holland Methodist churches which was vacated recently by the resignation of Rev. W. H. Harble. Rev. Harble has assumed the Summit Station charge of Rev. Crabbe.

Atlanta's and New Holland's new minister accepted the pastorate last Sunday when he preached at both churches. He moved to his new home Tuesday, accompanied by his wife and daughter. Rev. Crabbe has been in the Methodist ministry for the past 25 years.

Rev. Harble, since his resignation at Atlanta and New Holland until his acceptance of the Summit Station pastorate, has been engaged in conducting evangelistic services at Lancaster.

C. H. S. CHORISTERS ENTERTAIN CHAPEL

Singers Present Songs Rendered Before State Teachers' Meeting.

C. H. S. members of the All State chorus entertained the entire school Monday morning with several selections from the program given at the Ohio teachers' convention.

The program was very well rendered and Miss Wittich deserves much credit for supervising this chorus of promising young songsters.

The members of this chorus are: First tenors, Howard Greeno and Earl Milliron; 2nd tenors, Edwin Haecker, Robert Rector, Lorin Peters and Charles Kirkpatrick; sopranos, Lucille Kirkwood, Mary May Haswell, Ellen Leist, Peggy Courtright; Altos, Ruth Stout, Hortense Reid, Helen Kinsler, Helen Crist, Martha Mary Wolfe, Helen Yates, Jeane Crowe, and Margie Hunsicker; basses—James Brown, John Heskell, Elliot Barnhill and Hugh Courtright.

They sang the following selections from the All State program: "Old King Cole"; "Be The Best of Whatever You Are"; "How Can I Leave Thee"; "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star"; "Gently Falls The Shadow"; "Sweet Rose In June"; "Three Little Kittens"; "Daddy's Sweetheart" and "The Builder."

SNOW AND WARMER

Milder winter weather brought snow to Circleville Tuesday morning. Moderating temperatures arrived Monday when a maximum of 35 was recorded. Monday night the mercury dropped to 15, passing the 22 mark on the upward at 7 a. m. Tuesday. The snow started falling at 5 a. m.

Alonso Marion of Batavia is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Marion and is attending Farmers' Week at Ohio State university.

Clothing, Food Distribution Is Continued Here

The relief work at the City building, with the soup kitchen there, and at the United Brethren Community house on E. Main-st, continued over Sunday and Monday. More than 40 gallons of soup were issued at the community house on Monday. Everyone will be welcome there at noon and after school on Wednesday.

The odor of bean soup appetizingly permeates the air at the city hall. Everyone, who has offices there, is working over time sorting the clothing for distribution by the district nurse and city service directors. The little ragged youngsters who appear at the building are soon fitted out in respectable, warm clothing.

These children and whole families that are receiving aid, would probably have lived through the past cold weather somehow, but the charity of the people of Circleville has relieved most of the suffering. All of the clothing that was received was in good condition and very practical. Especially so were the donations of stores, which sent new merchandise in the most needed sizes.

Other donors were $1 in anonymous letter to C. M. Clay; employees of the 3rd National bank, $5; Earl Kibler, $5; Miss Emma Yates, clothing; B. H. Lukens, clothing; Alfred Lee, clothing and shoes; Marjorie Leach, clothing; George Foreman, clothing; Taylor McCready, meat and clothing; Denny Shelby, meat; Mrs. Hott, clothing; Benny Gordon, clothes and shoes; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mowery of the infirmary, $10; Charles Gatrell, shoes and clothing; Mrs. Edw. Ebert, clothing and shoes; H. S. R. Jones, fruit and clothing; J. J. Rooney, $1 and clothing; M. J. Dearth, bushel of potatoes; Charles Lewis, $5.

Samuel Rife, $5 and shoes; Mr. and Mrs. Davis, $2; Dr. Ed. Lilly, $1; Mrs. Robert Gearhart, $2 and clothing; Mr. Hampshire, clothing; M. Boggs, $1; Denny Pickens, case of corn and clothing; Mrs. G. L. Schieler, clothing; Mack Shoe Store, overshoes and shoes; Ted Drake, $1; Hudnell Grocery, clothing and groceries; J. B. Weiler, groceries; Parks' grocery, groceries; Miss Bertha Bowers and Mrs. Mary McCrea, $5; Charles Miller, groceries; J. W. Walters, groceries; Harry Gard, groceries; Frank Gordon, clothing; Ferd Martin, clothing and shoes; Mrs. Guthrie, clothing and shoes; Miss Hilda Burns, clothing; Thomas Rader and Son, coal and $5; Henry Wilson, clothing and shoes; Mrs. Cora Coffland, clothing; Miss Ollie Stout, clothing and shoes; Fred Nicholas, $2; Misses Mader, $2; Harry Merz, $1; from two who do not wish their names known, $5; Harry Betz, $2; Clarence Merz, $1; State Highway department employees, $13.02; U. C. Roush, clothing; Mrs. W. E. Hilyard, clothing and shoes; J. F. Bales, shoes; Mrs. Harry Stoker, of Columbus, one bushel of potatoes; Al. Dodd, a barrel of meat and enough groceries for two trips with the truck.

NOTED AIRMEN ARE IN SKIES

Lindy Resumes Southern Flight—Hawks Seeks Time Record.

By International News Service
A new conquest of the skies was under way today over North and Central America by a flock of famous airmen. The list is headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the greatest of them all.

Col. Lindbergh, who is making the maiden flight over the proposed air mail route from Miami, Fla., to the Panama Canal zone, hopped off at Belize, British Honduras, at 9:12, Eastern Standard time, enroute for Managua, Nicaragua. He alighted at Tela, Honduras, at 10 o'clock for fuel, according to a tropical wireless radiogram.

Capt. Frank Hawks who hopped off at Los Angeles, Calif., at 8:37 o'clock last night (Eastern Standard time) on a non-stop, transcontinental flight to New York, was believed to be well on his way today. He will try to break the record of 18 hours 58 minutes set by Art Goebel and the late Harry Tucker.

The first "air tour" was inaugurated at Boston, Mass., when a huge tri-motored Ford monoplane hopped off at the East Boston airport at 7:50 a. m. (Eastern Standard time) with eight passengers and two pilots, bound for Miami, Fla. They will fly from Miami to Havana.

Eddie Stinson, another noted aviator, planned an attempt to break the world's endurance record at Bay City, Mich.

One aviator of the group was missing. He is Major F. D. Coleman, who hopped off at Hadley Field, New Brunswick, N. J., in a DeHaviland plane bound for Newark, N. J. He is believed to have been forced down in some isolated district.

Captain R. H. DePew, Jr., and a companion left Farmingdale, N. Y., to deliver a mail monoplane at Tampico, Mexico.

DOROTHY RUTTER PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Dorothy May Rutter, 3-months-old daughter of John C. and Mary Hixon Rutter, died at their home in Pickaway-twp at 5 p. m. Monday from pneumonia after twelve hours' illness. The parents and two sisters, Anna Bell and Ivia Trene, survive.

Funeral for the child will be held at the home at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Rev. Hamilton of Lancaster officiating with burial in Hiller-Ludwig cemetery. W. H. Albaugh Co. is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

FINED $10, COSTS

Harry Reeves, arrested Friday at his home in Perry-twp by Dep. Sheriffs Porter and Fissell on a charge of drunkenness, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice E. C. Fricke Monday and was fined $10 and costs. On Feb. 20 Reeves will be tried before Probate Judge E. A. Brown on a charge of possessing intoxicants.

TREASURER OF OHIO TO MAKE DECISION SOON

Convicted State Official May Quit To Avoid His Impeachment.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 5.—Resignation of Bert B. Buckley as Ohio's state treasurer, is expected before tonight, according to reliable information gathered here today.

With this information came the understanding that Robert N. Brumbaugh, Dayton, one of Buckley's counsel, would confer with Gov. Myers Y. Cooper this afternoon, and that after the conference the governor would have an "importance announcement" to make.

Henry A. Williams, another member of Buckley's defense staff, refused to deny the reports of the official's resignation. He said that a conference would be held by Buckley, himself, and the other two members of Buckley's counsel, this afternoon. He also said that he "would have an important announcement" to make.

FACES JAIL TERM

Coupled with this was the belief among prominent Republican leaders that the white haired state official would resign to halt the impeachment proceedings now under way in the Ohio legislature.

Buckley, who faces a maximum prison sentence of 28 years as the result of his conviction in federal court Saturday, on liquor conspiracy and attempted bribery, up to this time has stoutly avowed that he will NOT resign. Though the man could not be reached, it is being noised about, that "political pressure" brought to bear on the 50-year-old official would force him to resign.

It is pointed out that if Buckley is impeached, he will be unable to hold any public office, but if he resigns that blot of infamy will not stain his political career.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Appointment of seven Republican house members as a committee to conduct an investigation whether impeachment proceedings shall be instituted against Buckley was made today by Speaker O. C. Gray, of the house.

This committee consists of Representatives Charles H. Jones, Jackson county, chairman; John A. Hadden, Cuyahoga county; Horace S. Keifer, Clark county; Joseph C. Dinsmore, Hamilton county; J. H. T. Gordon, Logan county; Miss Emma Cramer, Scioto county, and Dallas Sullivan, Union county.

Speaker Gray said the committee is expected to meet immediately after the regular session of the house this afternoon.

WIDOW, SON SHARE IN ROTHE'S ESTATE

Mrs. Josephine Roth, widow of the late Adolph F. Roth, of Perry-twp, and his son, Dudley H. Roth, receive all of his estate, according to a will filed for probate in the Pickaway-co probate court. The son and Milt Morris have been named executors. Appraisers of the estate will be John R. Van Meter, Bryon Frederick and Fred Nicholas.

Aida Greenley and Fannie Greeno have been appointed by Probate Judge E. A. Brown as administratrix of the estate of the late Frances A. Smith, of Circleville. The estate is valued at $200.

MADE DRY OFFICER

LONDON, O., Feb. 5.—Lamar P. Wilson of London, former Madison-co auditor and secretary of the Madison County Fair for the past 10 years, has been appointed district supervisor in the Ohio Prohibition Department. Wilson will have charge of the check-up of prohibition work in the district northwest of Madison-co.

FIRE IN PARSONAGE

WILMINGTON, O., Feb. 5.—For the second time within one month, fire threatened to destroy the home of Rev. Floyd Faust here early Sunday. Caused by a defective flue, a large hole was burned in the roof. Loss was placed at $50.

TWO IN FAM- ILY NOW TAK- ING SPIN-AGO

William Morris, Stoma c h
Trouble Gone, Recommends Spin-Ago To His Family.

WILLIAM MORRIS

Stomach trouble and constipation cannot withstand the action of Spin-Ago. Many years of suffering have been ended by one or two bottles of this new tonic which is made up on a base of concentrated spinach—So say countless residents of Circleville and other cities—So enthusiastic are they over the results obtained from using Spin-Ago, that voluntary statements of its benefits are daily made at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court Street, Circleville, Ohio, headquarters for Spin-Ago—They are not idle promises regarding what it is claimed Spin-Ago will do, but definite statements as to what it has done—For instance, Mr. William Morris, residing at 118 E. Water street, Circleville, last week made the following remarkable statement:

"For about ten years I had been suffering from constipation and stomach trouble—During this whole time I tried one medicine after another from drug stores and doctors—The misery was unbearable—I had no appetite whatever—My bodily resistance was weakened and I was in a terribly rundown condition—I was about discouraged after having tried so many different medicines over such a long period of time—Then I heard of Spin-Ago and what wonderful results other people had derived from it—One bottle of Spin-Ago did wonders for me—The second bottle did what all other medicines which I tried for ten years failed to do—It cured me—For the first time in ten years I now enjoy good health—My stomach trouble is gone—I have a good healthy appetite and enjoy my meals—My bowels are in good shape and my general condition is fine—I have Spin-Ago to thank for this change in me—It is a truly wonderful medicine I have now started my son on Spin-Ago and am sure that he will get the same results I have—If other sufferers from stomach trouble and indigestion will take my advice and try Spin-Ago, I am sure that they will be thankful for my recommendation."

Mr. Morris made this statement after he had found out by actual experience just what Spin-Ago would do—With relief such as Spin-Ago offers, there is no further need of suffering from constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, sour stomach, belching, liver and bowel complaint, loss of appetite and energy, anemic blood, etc.

How can Spin-Ago perform such feats—Simply because it has been compounded on a practical plan—Spinach, the base of Spin-Ago has been recommended by doctors for years as a very valuable food—Spinach makes the blood pure, rich and red and if your blood is pure, rich and red, you must be healthy—Besides this important ingredient, Spin-Ago contains the following well-known herbs, roots and barks, the medicinal values of which are well known—Cascara, Sarsaparilla, Mandrake, Dandelion, Prickly Ash, Poke Root, Gentian, Licorice, Burdock, and Wild Cherry—All these have been combined under a process and in proportion to make an extremely palatable product—Spin-Ago does not leave that unpleasant after-taste.

Spin-Ago, this new wonder tonic, based on concentrated spinach is available to Circleville residents at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court street—headquarters for this preparation—Come in today and hear what those whom Spin-Ago has relieved have to say—And best of all, Spin-Ago doesn't cost you anything if it doesn't do what is claimed for it. It is sold on an absolute money back guarantee, and if one, two or six bottles do not produce the desired results, your money is cheerfully refunded—So why not try a bottle today? You can't lose—Adv.

The Clouds played gamely against the larger team but found the height of their opponents too great a handicap to overcome.

The Tigers ran away with the score in the first quarter, which ended with the count 14 to 2 in favor of the home team. From that time, however, the Clouds outscored and outplayed their opponents but were unable to surmount the early lead.

All of the Clouds played a good game while Lynch and Swayer starred for Walnut. The two teams will clash again Thursday night when the Clouds will seek revenge.

CLUB TO PLAY AT LANCASTER

C. A. C. Squad Will Meet
Hocking Glass Team On Trip Tuesday Night.

The C. A. C. basketball squad will journey to Lancaster Tuesday night to do battle with the Hocking Glass team, one of the fastest semi-pro teams in Central Ohio. The club boys, although having never played the Hocking Glass team before, realize they have a hard nut to crack as they have on several occasions opposed various players that are on the Lancaster squad and remember them as good men.

The C. A. C. boys are going to Lancaster with that determination to win which they possess when they go into any game and while they may not be able to bring home the bacon the Lancaster quintet will know they have been some place if they do succeed in winning.

The probable line-up for the club will be Steele and Parks at forward; Wallace, center, and Meriman and Robinson, guards. The team will leave the C. A. C. at 6:15 p. m. and hopes to have several auto loads of rooters accompanying them.

Thursday night the C. A. C. boys will meet the Waverly high school faculty on the local court. This game should be a real treat for fans as the Waverly team is made up entirely of ex-college stars.

TWO IN FAMILY NOW TAKING SPIN-AGO

William Morris, Stomach Trouble Gone, Recommends Spin-Ago To His Family.

WILLIAM MORRIS

Stomach trouble and constipation cannot withstand the action of Spin-Ago. Many years of suffering have been ended by one or two bottles of this new tonic which is made up on a base of concentrated spinach—So say countless residents of Circleville and other cities—So enthusiastic are they over the results obtained from using Spin-Ago, that voluntary statements of its benefits are daily made at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court Street, Circleville, Ohio, headquarters for Spin-Ago—They are not idle promises regarding what it is claimed Spin-Ago will do, but definite statements as to what it has done—For instance, Mr. William Morris, residing at 118 E. Water street, Circleville, last week made the following remarkable statement:

"For about ten years I had been suffering from constipation and stomach trouble—During this whole time I tried one medicine after another from drug stores and doctors—The misery was unbearable—I had no appetite whatever—My bodily resistance was weakened and I was in a terribly rundown condition—I was about discouraged after having tried so many different medicines over such a long period of time—Then I heard of Spin-Ago and what wonderful results other people had derived from it—One bottle of Spin-Ago did wonders for me—The second bottle did what all other medicines which I tried for ten years failed to do—it cured me—For the first time in ten years I now enjoy good health—My stomach trouble is gone—I have a good healthy appetite and enjoy my meals—My bowels are in good shape and my general condition is fine—I have Spin-Ago to thank for this change in me—It is a truly wonderful medicine I have now started my son on Spin-Ago and am sure that he will get the same results I have—If other sufferers from stomach trouble and indigestion will take my advice and try Spin-Ago, I am sure that they will be thankful for my recommendation."

Mr. Morris made this statement after he had found out by actual experience just what Spin-Ago would do—With relief such as Spin-Ago offers, there is no further need of suffering from constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, sour stomach, belching, liver and bowel complaint, loss of appetite and energy, anemic blood, etc.

How can Spin-Ago perform such feats—Simply because it has been compounded on a practical plan—Spinach, the base of Spin-Ago has been recommended by doctors for years as a very valuable food—Spinach makes the blood pure, rich and red and if your blood is pure, rich and red, you must be healthy—Besides this important ingredient, Spin-Ago contains the following well-known herbs, roots and barks, the medicinal values of which are well known—Cascara, Sarsaparilla, Mandrake, Dandelion, Prickly Ash, Poke Root, Gentian, Licorice, Burdock, and Wild Cherry—All these have been combined under a process and in proportion to make an extremely palatable product—Spin-Ago does not leave that unpleasant after-taste.

Spin-Ago, this new wonder tonic, based on concentrated spinach is available to Circleville residents at the Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court street—headquarters for this preparation—Come in today and hear what those whom Spin-Ago has relieved have to say—And best of all, Spin-Ago doesn't cost you anything if it doesn't do what is claimed for it. It is sold on an absolute money back guarantee, and if one, two or six bottles do not produce the desired results, your money is cheerfully refunded—So why not try a bottle today? You can't lose.—Adv.

The Clouds played gamely against the larger team but found the height of their opponents too great a handicap to overcome.

The Tigers ran away with the score in the first quarter, which ended with the count 14 to 2 in favor of the home team. From that time, however, the Clouds outscored and outplayed their opponents but were unable to surmount the early lead.

All of the Clouds played a good game while Lynch and Swoyer starred for Walnut. The two teams will clash again Thursday night when the Clouds will seek revenge.

CLUB TO PLAY AT LANCASTER

C. A. C. Squad Will Meet Hocking Glass Team On Trip Tuesday Night.

The C. A. C. basketball squad will journey to Lancaster Tuesday night to do battle with the Hocking Glass team, one of the fastest semi-pro teams in Central Ohio. The club boys, although having never played the Hocking Glass team before, realize they have a hard nut to crack as they have on several occasions opposed various players that are on the Lancaster squad and remember them as good men.

The C. A. C. boys are going to Lancaster with that determination to win which they possess when they go into any game and while they may not be able to bring home the bacon the Lancaster quintet will know they have been some place if they do succeed in winning.

The probable line-up for the club will be Steele and Parks at forward; Wallace, center, and Meriman and Robinson, guards. The team will leave the C. A. C. at 6:15 p. m. and hopes to have several auto loads of rooters accompanying them.

Thursday night the C. A. C. boys will meet the Waverly high school faculty on the local court. This game should be a real treat for fans as the Waverly team is made up entirely of ex-college stars.

IS IT YOUR BUSINESS—OR OURS?

Suppose the Stock Fire Insurance companies had not fostered fire prevention.

Suppose they had followed the selfish principle that, no matter how great the destruction of property, rates could be adjusted accordingly.

What then would have been America's record of loss by fire?

Frightful enough it is—in spite of the efforts of the Stock Fire Insurance companies, working through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and its departments of Building Construction, Public Fire Protection, Engineering, the Arson Bureau, Underwriters' Laboratories, and other avenues of activity.

The reduction of the fire waste or the loss of life by fire is not primarily an insurance problem. The Stock Fire Insurance companies must charge for insurance on a basis sufficient to cover losses and operating expenses.

Therefore—viewing the situation from their selfish interests only—they need be no more concerned than are other industries in working toward a reduction of the fire waste.

However, for the welfare of the country as a whole the 229 Stock Fire Insurance companies which transact the great bulk of the fire insurance business voluntarily undertook the task of heading up the forces opposed to the destruction of life and property by fire.

The results have been encouraging. People are building better. Obvious hazards are being removed. But there is pressing need for further improvement.

Future progress in this work depends largely upon the degree of cooperation extended by you and others in the use of available safety devices and measures, and in the elimination of the many known hazards which continue to threaten life and property.

The large farm residence of John Mallow, four miles south of Atlanta in Ross-co, was burned to the ground Saturday night by a fire which apparently originated in an attic from a defective flue. Mr. Mallow is said to be two weeks ill with flu.

"Faust" To Be First of Three Operas Presented in Columbus Auditorium

The ever popular "Faust," Gounod's celebrated masterpiece adapted from Goethe's immortal poem, will be the first of three operas to be presented by the Chicago Civic Opera Company in its second Centray Ohio grand opera season which opens February 18th in the new Columbus Auditorium. Edith Mason, the charming soprano remembered for her fine portrayal of the part of Gilda in Rigoletto, will sing the role of Marguerite. Charles Hackett, one of the greatest of American tenors, who sang the role of the Duke of Mantua, will appear as Faust. Richard Bonelli the Rigoletto of last year, will be Valentine, the brother of Marguerite. Mephistopheles will be sung by Virgilio Lazzari, who so ably sang the part of Sparafucile in Rigoletto.

Faust, in the initial act, is portrayed as an aged philosopher whose pursuit of knowledge and science has left his life bitterly empty. Just as he is about to drink a poisoned cup he hears in the street the voices of exuberant, youthful workers and is filled with a new desire to live. He summons Satan (Mephistopheles) to his aid and the Evil Spirit, seeing in the aged student a fool to wreak havoc among the innocent, bargains with Faust to give him youth and serve him during life, if Faust will give him his soul after death.

Mephistopheles conjures up a vision of Marguerite in a crystal sphere and Faust, madly in love with the vision, enters the bargain. Straightway Faust, transformed into a dashing youth, is led to the village festival by Mephistopheles, who arrogantly reads the palms of the merry-makers, prophesying for Siebel, a timid youth who is in love with Marguerite, that what ever flowers his hands touch shall wither.

More than a year later, after the love affair of Faust is consummated, Marguerite, deserted by all except the faithful Siebel, awaits the return of her brother, Valentine. As he arrives, Faust, wracked by contrition at having been induced by Mephistopheles to desert Marguerite, enters, hoping to make amends. Mephistopheles, however, gloating over Marguerite's downfall, sings an insulting serenade under the window and Valentine rushes out, sword in hand, to avenge his sister. Satan, passing his sword to Faust, bids him kill Valentine, which he does with a magic thrust. Valentine dies cursing his sister whose mind is shaken by her grief. She kills her child and is thrown in prison where she hears again from without the voice of Faust, whom she still loves. Mephistopheles, not content with his bargain for Faust soul, also covets that of Marguerite, but as she dies angels appear and carry her upward to heaven while Mephistopheles sobs and drags him away to the region to fulfill his compact.

'Round the Town

News of the Homes and Home Folks

Published by STEVENSON'S

VOL. 1 No. 6

February 5, 1929.

Would you believe it, one of our—ahem—heavy admirers (we wouldn't dare to mention the name) wants us to add an "Advice to the Lovelorn" department to our little newspaper. He claims that nobody wants to read about Furniture anyway, and besides, the whole town is just brimming with folks who would write us for advice and sign their letters "Anxious" or "Troubled."

All that would be very nice, of course, but, you know—sort of awkward—we've never had any Beatrice Fairfax experience—and besides, well, you know—this is usually read at home—and well, a Lovelorn department is simply out of the question.

However, we're always ready to give advice on Furniture problems. Any suggestion that will help to better your home. We're not high-powered consultants, so all of our advice will be free. And, naturally, you are not obligated to follow it.

It's a safe bet that few of us can recall whether or not the groundhog saw his shadow last week. At any rate, we'd advise (and here's good advice) keeping the homes well-heated—preferably with an Estate Heatrola—and a snow shovel with reaching distance for a while yet. By "a while yet" we mean the next two months. Don't forget that March has still to come in like a lion and go out like a menagerie.

Which leads up to the big confession: Estate Heatrolas are on sale and for real comfort in winter time—there's nothing like 'em. Furthermore, there's Heatrola Junior for smaller homes—a regular chip off the old block.

Youth: "Sir, I would like to marry your daughter."

Father: "Have you seen her mother yet?"

Youth: "Yes, but I still prefer your daughter."

Unexpected guests? Nothing to worry about if you have a bed davenport in your living room. Talk about 2 in 1. A beautifully upholstered davenport in the day time, and a full-sized bed at night, with "comfort" written all over it. Chairs to match, and the same generous terms, as usual.

The home of Miss Ida Iles has a 'summery' look. Ferns of every description in the windows, and they are surely a pleasant sight these wintry days. We had nothing to do with the ferns, but we did supply the fern stands, and

This is for housewives who don't care whether or not cigar ashes keep moths out of rugs. A smoking stand by HIS favorite chair will result in less wear and tear on the broom or carpet sweeper. Many models—all at mid-winter sale prices.

Chills and fever are conspicuously absent in the home of Mr. George Mavis. He attributes this to the new Estate Heatrola, and adds that the annual coal bill has suffered a severe blow. Mrs. Mavis informs us that since the Heatrola has been installed the children can play anywhere in the house at any time. No drafty floors or cold corners with Heatrola—it heats the whole house.

Astronomy Instructor: "Miss Jones, can you name a star with a tail?"

Sweet, young thing (absolutely mindfully) "Rin Tin Tin."

If your kitchen table is on its last legs—now is the time to replace it with a new one from our store. A size to fit your requirements, and a price too, for February sale is in full swing.

Tell us how you like 'ROUND THE TOWN.' We'll appreciate letters from our readers.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and as I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckies, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckies.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

Mephistopheles conjures up a vision of Marguerite in a crystal

sphere and Faust, madly in love with the vision, enters the bargain. Straightway Faust, transformed into a dashing youth, is led to the village festival by Mephistopheles, who arrogantly reads the palms of the merry-makers, prophesying for Siebel, a timid youth who is in love with Marguerite, that what ever flowers his hands touch shall wither.

More than a year later, after the love affair of Faust is consummated, Marguerite, deserted by all except the faithful Siebel, awaits the return of her brother, Valentine. As he arrives, Faust, wracked by contrition at having been induced by Mephistopheles to desert Marguerite, enters, hoping to make amends. Mephistopheles, however, gloating over Marguerite's downfall, sings an insulting serenade under the window and Valentine rushes out, sword in hand, to avenge his sister. Satan, passing his sword to Faust, bids him kill Valentine, which he does with a magic thrust. Valentine dies cursing his sister whose mind is shaken by her grief. She kills her child and is thrown in prison where she hears again from without the voice of Faust, whom she still loves. Mephistopheles, not content with his bargain for Faust soul, also covets that of Marguerite, but as she dies angels appear and carry her upward to heaven, while Mephistopheles seizes Faust and drags him away to the lower region to fulfill his compact.

News of the Homes and Home Folks

Published by
STEVENSON'S

VOL. 1 No. 6

February 5, 1929.

Would you believe it, one of our —ahem—heavy admirers (we wouldn't dare to mention the name) wants us to add an "Advice to the Lovelorn" department to our little newspaper. He claims that nobody wants to read about Furniture anyway, and besides, the whole town is just brimming with folks who would write us for advice and sign their letters "Anxious" or "Troubled."

All that would be very nice, of course, but, you know—sort of awkward—we've never had any Beatrice Fairfax experience—and besides, well, you know—this is usually read at home—and well, a Lovelorn department is simply out of the question.

However, we're always ready to give advice on Furniture problems. Any suggestion that will help to better your home. We're not high-powered consultants, so all of our advice will be free. And, naturally, you are not obligated to follow it.

It's a safe bet that few of us can recall whether or not the groundhog saw his shadow last week. At any rate, we'd advise (and here's good advice) keeping the homes well-heated—preferably with an Estate Heatrola—and a snow shovel withi reaching distance for a while yet. By "a while yet" we mean the next two months. Don't forget that March has still to come in like a lion and go out like a menagerie.

Which leads up to the big confession: Estate Heatrolas are on sale and for real comfort in winter time—there's nothing like 'em. Furthermore, there's Heatrola Junior for smaller homes—a regular chip off the old block.

Youth: "Sir, I would like to marry your daughter."

Father: "Have you seen her mother yet?"

Youth: "Yes, but I still prefer your daughter."

Unexpected guests? Nothing to worry about if you have a bed davenport in your living room. Talk about 2 in 1. A beautifully upholstered davenport in the day time, and a full-sized bed at night, with "comfort" written all over it. Chairs to match, and the same generous terms, as usual.

The home of Miss Ida Iles has a 'summery' look. Ferns of every description in the windows, and they are surely a pleasant sight these wintry days. We had nothing to do with the ferns, but we did supply the fern stands, and Miss Iles tells us they've come in for their share of comfort, too.

This is for housewives who don't care whether or not cigar ashes keep moths out of rugs. A smoking stand by HIS favorite chair will result in less wear and tear on the broom or carpet sweeper. Many models—all at mid-winter sale prices.

Chills and fever are conspicuously absent in the home of Mr. George Mavis. He attributes this to the new Estate Heatrola, and adds that the annual coal bill has suffered a severe blow. Mrs. Mavis informs us that since the Heatrola has been installed the children can play anywhere in the house at any time. No drafty floors or cold corners with Heatrola—it heats the WHOLE house.

Astronomy Instructor: "Miss Jones, can you name a star with a tail?"

Sweet young thing (absent-mindedly) "Rin Tin Tin."

If your kitchen table is on its last legs—now is the time to replace it with a new one from our store. A size to fit your requirements, and a price, too, for our February sale is in full swing.

Tell us how you like 'ROUND THE TOWN.' We'll appreciate letters from our readers.

Chief officer Harry Manning says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"WHEN I climbed aboard the 'America' after those cold, strenuous hours getting the men off the freighter 'Florida,' there was nothing I wanted so much as a Lucky—'By George,' it tasted wonderful! A Lucky is always refreshing. My tense nerves relaxed, my aching throat was soothed and the whole thrilling adventure just seemed a part of the day's work. As time goes by, and as I look back to that memorable night, I'll always remember the wonderful taste of that welcome Lucky. As I went around to visit the men we'd rescued, I found many of them enjoying Luckies, too. We really couldn't wait to get back to our ship and 'Luckies.' As an actual fact in returning to the 'America' I noticed one of our men* rowing with one hand and lighting a 'Lucky' with the other. There's no flavor to equal toasted tobaccos, and I always prefer Lucky Strikes. There's wisdom in the saying: 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' It helps a man to keep physically fit and we who follow the sea must always be prepared for any emergency."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during the year 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

POLITICAL PATRONAGE

One of the most perplexing of the problems that President-elect Hoover, and in fact all governors and congressmen have to face, is that of political patronage. They find on accession to office, that a lot of party workers demand public positions for themselves and their friends, as a reward for political services.

These applicants take the position that they are fairly entitled to such opportunities since people can not be expected to do the political work which must be done, unless it is regarded as an opening to a political career in the public service.

The reformers of a previous day used to regard that position as all wrong, and they would favor turning down most of these requests. Of course where these party workers demand a clean sweep of civil service employees to make room for political workers, such clean sweeps would demoralize the public services and prevent efficiency.

It would be an ideal and wonderful thing, if the spirit of good citizenship was so strong, that people would be glad to do all necessary campaign work purely as a public service, without hope of any kind of reward. Then our politicians would be free to make appointments solely on the basis of merit, without regard to patronage claims.

But such high standards are beyond our reach today, and we have to do the best we can do. The party workers will demand appointments to office and political promotion for a long time to come. But public sentiment should insist that people should not get jobs for which they are not fitted. They must be required to demonstrate their fitness for any position before they can expect appointment. The most they have a right to claim is that everything else being equal, the party workers may be considered to have the first claim on the job.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR:

MUCH against her will Irene Robeline is sitting up at the wake of Lilith Holden, pretty wife of the Minister Guinn Holden. Irene had feared the sharp tongue and witch's instinct for guessing facts that other people wished concealed that was part of Mattie Anson, the town gossip. In the heavy flower-laden atmosphere Irene guards her own secret as Will Lundy, the new doctor, listens to Art Rakestraw and Mattie discuss the beauty and coquetry that had been Lilith's. After every young fellow in town had proposed to her at least once, it was the minister she married, though "she didn't care for the poor sucker she'd hooked, but only the fish swimming in the sea." Whether or not the fellows already had girls mattered not at all to Lilith. "Just give me a little time," she had said when taunted "to land" the new minister from Abby Whitaker. With the whole town for an audience Lilith pursued the minister, determined to break down his resistance. Her pride hurt, she appealed to his manhood, confessing her love for him. His answer was, "Do you mean it enough to marry me this morning?" Still thinking she could string him along, Lilith became Mrs. Guinn Holden. Then a year later came the baby and Lilith's death. Irene Robeline suffered silently as she listened to the story of Lilith's capture of Guinn Holden, the man she herself had loved and lost.

Now Go On With the Story.

CHAPTER VI.

Irene Robeline lived across the street from the parsonage, and so she caught glimpses and echoes of much that went on over there. The pastor named his baby Lilith, and refused to turn her over to any of the family on either side. He'd take care of her himself, in his own home. Something might happen to her if he let her go away from him, he contended. The Ladies' Aid argued in vain eloquence, and Mattie Anson said, "He's mule stubborn. But what can you expect? Ain't he a man?"

He defended his views one day when he came across to see Irene's mother, who was laid up with inflammatory rheumatism. "But you don't realize what it means to take care of a little baby," Irene expostulated. "I can learn." His lips set firmly and he folded his arms as he stood by her mother's bedside. "I've got Aunt Viny to stay and run the house and take care of the baby. I'll supply the brain work for the job."

"It takes more brain power and more foot and hand power than any man thinks to bring up a baby. There'll be bottles to sterilize, for instance. You can't trust an old-fashioned, back-yard, nervous-looking after these things scientific."

"I'll see to sterilizing the bottles."

"You'll have your hands full," Mrs. Robeline commented. "But you can learn."

"A woman's born knowing the things, I guess." His face softened, and then lightened with pain. "Not a bit of it," she scoffed. "Graveyards are full of mothers' mistakes. Use your mind, that's all, and come over here when you get stuck. I've brought up six of my own and have got a good story of grand children."

"Thank—I'll remember. I expect I'll make a lot of myself. My intention on the subject is bigger than all outdoors—but I can't say up my legs. I've got to look after Lilith."

He rumbled his hair. "How do I know? Aunt Viny pops a bottle in her mouth every time she yelps. But that doesn't seem logical to me."

Irene laughed. "She may be complaining because she's overfed, or maybe her food isn't the right sort."

He looked alarmed. "It's the formula the doctor gave me. Can't you trust a doctor?"

"Oh, he has to experiment." "Aunt Viny patronizes me so," he complained. "Whenever I offer a suggestion, she says, 'Go way fum heah, boy. I was nussin' babies befo' you was bawn or thought of.'"

Irene laughed. It was so cheering to hear him able to speak humorously again. "Aunt Viny knows the old-style fundamentals of baby care. But she has a scorn for anything medical science has discovered since the Civil War."

"She tells me it's nothing but Yankee tomfoolishness," he said. "Trouble with me is I don't know whether any one of her notions is a piece of inspiration or fool ignorance that might be the death of the baby. How'm I going to find out? It's my job to take care of Lilith."

He looked so helpless that she was moved to comfort him. "Oh, you're learning fast."

Her eyelids fluttered down but he was too much in her gaze. Her blush surged over cheek and throat and forehead, so that she felt sure he must notice—but he was watching Aunt Viny wheel a baby buggy up and down the sidewalk in front of his house, so he didn't observe.

"Better make your prayers to the Ladies' Aid. They can help." He lifted one agitated hand. "They all tell me different things. Mixed advice is bad, as Lilith and I've found out. I'd better concentrate on your mother's experience."

"Well, she hasn't buried any of her mistakes yet." Irene began surreptitiously reading up on the ailments of infants, with special attention to colic. A man was the most helpless being in the world—more so than a baby even, because he didn't know it. A baby simply howled and let you wait on it, while a man tried to do for himself, and got things in a muss.

Lilith's colic all but broke up the church. The Ladies' Aid talked it over as they sewed on garments for the orphans, and the various members prescribed such a diversity of treatments that Lilith would certainly have died if her father had made test of them all on her. Each Aider urged that her own remedy be followed, and was incensed if it were not. The deacons offered masculine sympathy at their sessions, but they knew how much the pastor had suffered, so they made no personal issue of the matter. Night after night Irene could see the man's shadowy form behind the thin curtains as he walked up and down with the baby, singing now a hymn and now some foolish college song.

"Your pearly teeth are false, love; Nut-brown maiden, you have such pearly teeth."

"Lilith's colic is sure going hard with the preacher," Mattie Anson said one day as she gossiped on Irene's front porch. "If she don't get over it soon we'll have to physic him. Looks like a worm-eaten telephone pole now, and as worried as if the haunts were after him."

"Yes, he does look worried." "Funny how hard men take children, when they take 'em at all. Grieving after that flittery wife of his, too. Some folks don't know when the 'Lord's looking after 'em."

"It ain't always easy." "Now, you've perked up considerably, Irene, since you came home. Look as pretty as a pomegranate bloom. I reckon it's that new beau of yours."

"What?" she jerked, stiffening, on guard.

"Oh, maybe you think I don't know how that new doctor, Will Lundy, is wearing a path to your front porch. Haven't I two good eyes?"

"Oh!" she laughed, relaxing in relief. "Nonsense." What if she had been going to say—? "That's all right, nothing to get flustered over," said Mattie with a yawn. "Beau company is a great beautifier. Nothing sets a girl off so like a steady. A beau is real becoming to any girl. You're getting along, too, Irene. Better not wait too long. Twenty-three now, ain't you?"

Irene laughed in amused tolerance. "Nobody in the town could fool you about anything, so why try?"

"Well, all I got to say is, don't fiddle round too long. I notice that old age can be mighty lonesome if there's no man to fuss over. Men are troublesome creatures, the good Lord that made 'em knows. But we don't know how to get along without 'em. They keep our tempers exercised and our minds on the jump, like the boll weevils do the farmers."

THEATRES

FILM OF UNDERWORLD
Dolores Costello, Conrad Nagel and Mitchell Lewis have the leading roles in "Underworld," a gripping picture of the underworld, which will be seen on the Grand screen Tuesday and Wednesday. A Fox News will be shown Tuesday and an Educational comedy on Wednesday. China will be given to the Ladies Wednesday.

MENJOU STARS AGAIN
"Greatest enthusiasm of the movies" is the title often conferred upon Adolphe Menjou by his intimates.

For him, each new picture is an adventure. Menjou would be the importance first to laugh if anyone should pull the old bromide about "living for his art." He doesn't call it "his art." It's his work and his hobby.

When Menjou and Frank Tuttle first talked over the possibilities of "Marquis Preferred," his latest starring picture, which the Metropolitan theater will show for two days, starting Wednesday, each of them decided it was a new opportunity for achievement. They spent weeks discussing details and suggesting improvements.

"We've put everything into it," Menjou told reporters. "Wait until you see the finesse of some of the situations. We haven't repeated an old gag. It's my best to date."

"MIDNIGHT LIFE"

For the first time in many moons regular patrons of the Clif-

tona theatre will have the opportunity of seeing a first class "big-time" New York musical comedy star in a motion picture. This inspiring event will take place when "Midnight Life," a Gotham production, comes to town Wednesday for two days. And the star is light-footed Eddie Buzzell, late of "Tip Toes," "The Desert Song," and other Broadway hits. Eddie trips the light fantastic in this thrilling underworld picture as a "hooper" who hasn't made good yet, and his partner is Gertrude Olmstead, as pretty and dynamic as ever. "Midnight Life" stars Francis X. Bushman in the role of detective.

I expect I'll make a pest of myself. My ignorance on the subject is bigger than all outdoors—but I can't give up my baby. I've got to look after Lilith!"

As days and weeks went on, his ignorance on the subject proved to be almost as extensive as he had said and the amused sympathy of the church centered about his efforts to look after Lilith. Irene kept up with his problems, and her vicarious sufferings were almost as great as his own. Men were so helpless where children were concerned. He was putting too great a burden on himself to do all this. How foolish of him not to let some woman in the family take the baby till she was older! How foolish, but how lovable! "Taking care of a baby is harder than exegesis or homiletics," he murmured with a shake of his head one day when he came across the street for advice. "I know Greek roots—but what in thunder do you do with a baby when she cries?" "That depends on what she's crying about."

He rumbled his hair. "How do I know? Aunt Viny pops a bottle in her mouth every time she yelps. But that doesn't seem logical to me."

Irene laughed. "She may be complaining because she's overfed, or maybe her food isn't the right sort."

He looked alarmed. "It's the formula the doctor gave me. Can't you trust a doctor?"

"Oh, he has to experiment." "Aunt Viny patronizes me so," he complained. "Whenever I offer a suggestion, she says, 'Go way from here, boy. I was nussin' babies before you was bawn or thought of.'"

Irene laughed. It was so cheering to hear him able to speak humorously again. "Aunt Viny knows the old-style fundamentals of baby care. But she has a scorn for anything medical since the Civil War."

"She tells me it's nothing but Yankee tomfoolishness," he said. "Trouble with me is I don't know whether any one of her notions is inherited inspiration or fool ignorance that might be the death of the baby. How'm I going to find out? It's my job to take care of Lilith."

He looked so helpless that she was moved to comfort him. "Oh, you're learning fast."

Her eyelids fluttered down lest he see too much in her gaze. Her blush surged over cheek and throat and forehead, so that she was watching Aunt Viny wheel a baby buggy up and down the sidewalk in front of his house, so he didn't observe.

Another day he came over hatless and disturbed. "Colic!" he panted, as he eased himself down in a rocking chair and mopped his forehead. "Aunt Viny says there's seven months' colic. I don't think either Lilith or I could stand it that long."

From across the street came the wail of a baby, in a sort of bubbling rise and fall, which reported to Irene that Aunt Viny was jouncing Lilith to quiet her.

"What are you doing for it?" "Walking the floor with it."

"Oh, your poor sermons!" He nodded. "Yes. And I can't find a thing about colic in Cruden's Concordance. That's all the place I know to look up anything."

"I suppose if you did find it, we'd have a sermon on it next Sunday."

He grinned. "Came pretty near praying about colic in church Sunday night. Just caught myself in time."

"Better make your prayers to the Ladies' Aid. They can help." He lifted one agitated hand. "They all tell me different things. Mixed advice is bad, as Lilith and I've found out. I'd better concentrate on your mother's experience."

"Well, she hasn't buried any of her mistakes yet." Irene began surreptitiously reading up on the ailments of infants, with special attention to colic. A man was the most helpless being in the world—more so than a baby even, because he didn't know it. A baby simply howled and let you wait on it, while a man tried to do for himself, and got things in a muddle.

Lilith's colic all but broke up the church. The Ladies' Aid talked it over as they sewed on garments for the orphans, and the various members prescribed such a diversity of treatments that Lilith would certainly have died if her father had made test of them all on her. Each Aider urged that her own remedy be followed, and was incensed if it were not. The deacons offered masculine sympathy at their sessions; but they knew how much the pastor had suffered, so they made no personal issue of the matter. Night after night Irene could see the man's shadowy form behind the thin curtains as he walked up and down with the baby, singing now a hymn and now some foolish college song.

"Your pearly teeth are false, love; They rattle while you waltz, love; Nut-brown maiden, you have such pearly teeth."

"Lilith's colic is sure going hard with the preacher," Mattie Anson said one day as she gossiped on Irene's front porch. "If she don't get over it soon we'll have to physic him. Looks like a worm-eaten telephone pole now, and as worried as if the haunts were after him."

"Yes, he does look worried." "Funny how hard men take children, when they take 'em at all. Grieving after that flittery wife of his, too. Some folks don't know when the Lord's looking after 'em."

"Now, you've perked up considerable, Irene, since you came home. Look as pretty as a pomegranate bloom. I reckon it's that new beau of yours."

"What?" she jerked, stiffening, on guard.

"Oh, maybe you think I don't know how that new doctor, Will Lundy, is wearing a path to your front porch. Haven't I two good eyes?"

"That's all right, nothing to get flustered over," said Mattie with a yawn. "Beau company is a great beautifier. Nothing sets a girl off so like a steady. A beau is real becoming to any girl. You're getting along, too, Irene. Better not wait too long. Twenty-three now, ain't you?"

Irene laughed in amused tolerance. "Nobody in the town could fool you about anything, so why try?"

"Well, all I got to say is, don't fiddle 'round too long. I notice that old age can be mighty lonesome if there's no man to fuss over. Men are troublesome creatures, the good Lord that made 'em knows. But we don't know how to get along without 'em. They keep our tempers exercised and our minds on the jump, like the boll weevils do the farmers."

THEATRES

FILM OF UNDERWORLD
Dolores Costello, Conrad Nagel and Mitchell Lewis have the leading roles in "Underworld," a gripping picture of the underworld, which will be seen on the Grand screen Tuesday and Wednesday. A Fox News will be shown Tuesday and an Educational comedy on Wednesday. China will be given to the ladies Wednesday.

MENJOU STARS AGAIN
"Greatest enthusiast of the movies" is the title often conferred upon Adolphe Menjou by his intimates.

For him, each new picture is an adventure. Menjou would be the importance first to laugh if anyone should pull the old bromide about "living for his art." He doesn't call it "his art." It's his work and his hobby.

When Menjou and Frank Tuttle first talked over the possibilities of "Marquis Preferred," his latest starring picture, which the Metropolitan theater will show for two days, starting Wednesday each of them decided it was a new opportunity for achievement. They spent weeks discussing details and suggesting improvements.

"We've put everything into it," Menjou told reporters. "Wait until you see the fineness of some of the situations. We haven't repeated an old gag. It's my best to date."

"MIDNIGHT LIFE"
For the first time in many moons regular patrons of the Clif-

tona theatre will have the opportunity of seeing a first class "big-time" New York musical comedy star in a motion picture. This inspiring event will take place when "Midnight Life," a Gotham production, comes to town Wednesday for two days. And the star is light-footed Eddie Buzzell, late of "Tip Toes," "The Desert Song," and other Broadway hits. Eddie trips the light fantastic in this thrilling underworld picture as a "hooper" who hasn't made good yet, and his partner is Gertrude Olmstead, as pretty and dynamic as ever. "Midnight Life" stars Francis X. Bushman in the role of detective.

NOW ABLE TO WALK WITHOUT PAIN: PRAISES HOYT'S

Retired Mail Carrier Grateful To Famous Prescription For New Health.

Mr. J. B. Shirley, who resides at 76 N. Brennell St., Chillicothe, Ohio, is still another well known resident of this vicinity who is publicly endorsing Hoyt's Compound which is the famous prescription now being introduced to crowds every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, O.

MR. J. B. SHIRLEY.

Mr. Shirley is well known to everyone throughout this entire section having been a mail carrier in Chillicothe for over 12 years and finally gave up this work because of rheumatism which had bothered him for eight years before he had gotten to be a great victim of the bowel trouble which made it necessary for him to be continually taking different kinds of laxatives and strong physics in order to obtain the slightest relief from his troubles. He was also troubled with his kidneys which broke his rest several times each night and he stated above the rheumatism settled in his joints, forcing him to use a cane. He had tried numerous kinds of medicines but was unable to find anything to give him the relief he desired. How Hoyt's quickly ended this well known man's suffering and made it possible for him to walk and get around without the use of his cane is told in Mr. Shirley's complete statement which follows:

"Have been a resident here in Chillicothe for several years," said Mr. Shirley. "All of my friends and acquaintances know that during the past 20 years I have suffered intense pain and misery from rheumatism. I carried mail for over 12 years and finally had to give up this work as the rheumatism grew steadily worse. This trouble caused me no end of expense and worry. I was continually taking STRONG PHYSICS but these only seemed to bring relief for the time being and would soon wear off leaving me in a worse condition than before. Kidneys were weak and deranged and broke my rest several times each night causing me to feel tired and worn out and draggy the following day, just as though I had never been to bed. When I kept seeing letters of praise which were received every day here in Chillicothe from people who had taken this great medicine and had gotten relief from it after everything else had failed I knew at once that it must have merit. I can now truthfully say that I am able to get around without the use of my cane and feel better than I have felt during the past 20 years, after taking the Hoyt's Compound. My kidneys are strengthened, bowels are regulated and my appetite is very much improved through the use of this famous prescription and I am glad to be able to endorse it to other sufferers."

Hoyt's Compound is now being introduced and explained every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, Ohio—Adv.

Valentine's Day Honors Man Who Opposed King's Marriage Ban

By Kathryn St. John

The Valentine festival appears to be a day of fun, dedicated to the little fellow with the bow and arrow whom we call "Dan Cupid."

It is generally believed that the day was named for St. Valentine, known as "the lovers' saint." Valentine was a priest, who, when he learned of the ban placed on marriage by Emperor Claudius, invited young lovers to come to him to be secretly married. Valentine was seized when he was discovered and thrown into prison where he died.

The young people of Rome, for whom he gave his life, very prettily named the day in his honor.

During the Middle Ages, the peasantry used to assemble on the evening before Valentine's Day and draw names by chance. These names were written on slips called "valentines" and the person whose name was on the slip became the holder's sweetheart for the year.

Thus grew the custom of exchanging pretty sentiments on Valentine's Day.

Clover Biscuits

2 cups pastry flour 3 tbs. fat 3 tbs. baking powder 1/2 cup water 1 tsp. salt

Sift flour, then measure. Resift with other dry ingredients into mixing bowl. Rub fat in with fingers until appearance is like coarse corn meal. Add diluted milk and mix quickly with a fork. Stir until dough disappears and then add 4 or 5 stirs to smooth and slightly stiffen the dough. Turn immediately onto a thoroughly floured board. Pat dough out with hand, or roll to three-fourths inch thickness. Cut with a small cutter 1 inch in diameter. Place together in threes on an oiled tin far enough apart not to come together in baking. Bake in a hot oven (425° F. to 450° F.). About 12 or 13 servings.

White Cake

1 1/2 cups cake flour 1/2 cup egg whites 4 tbs. baking powder 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup lemon extract 1/2 cup white fat 1/2 tsp. almond extract

Sift flour, then measure. Resift twice, with baking powder and salt. Cream fats until soft, then add sugar and cream until white and smooth. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat until mixture has the appearance of softened marshmallow. Add dry ingredients and diluted milk, then the flavoring. Bake in a square or rectangular pan lined with paraffin paper at 350°-375° F. When cold cut into small cubes and frost with pink icing. Yield: 24 servings.

Speedy Relief for Sore Throat

Safe Prescription Requires No Gargling.

No longer is it necessary to gargle or to choke with nasty tasting patent medicines or gargles to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a famous doctor's prescription called Thoxine. It has a double action, relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by gargles, salves, and patent medicines.

Thoxine does not contain iron, chloroform or dope, is pleasant-tasting, harmless and safe for the whole family. Also excellent for coughs; stops them almost instantly. Quick relief guaranteed or your money back. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Hamilton & Ryan and all other good drug stores.—Adv.

DON'T STARVE TO END FAT

Few succeed without harm. Try the modern way, embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The results are seen everywhere.

Marmola contains a gland element which helps turn food into fuel and energy. The formula appears in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you will know how the changes occur without harm.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. So start it now. Take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Do this because of the new beauty and vim which Marmola has brought to so many, for so long.

Acidity

The common cause of digestive difficulties is excess acid. Soda cannot alter this condition, and it burns the stomach. Something that will neutralize the acidity is the sensible thing to take. That is why physicians tell the public to use Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this delightful preparation can neutralize many times its volume in acid. It acts instantly; relief is quick, and very apparent. All gas is dispelled; all sourness is soon gone; the whole system is sweetened. Do try this perfect anti-acid, and remember it is just as good for children, too, and pleasant to take. ## NOW ABLE TO WALK WITHOUT PAIN: PRAISES HOYT'S

Retired Mail Carrier Grateful To Famous Prescription For New Health.

Mr. J. B. Shirley, who resides at 76 N. Brennell St., Chillicothe, Ohio, is still another well known resident of this vicinity who is publicly endorsing Hoyt's Compound which is the famous prescription now being introduced to crowds every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, O.

MR. J. B. SHIRLEY.

Mr. Shirley is well known to everyone throughout this entire section having been a mail carrier in Chillicothe for over 12 years and finally gave up this work because of rheumatism which had bothered him for eight years before he had gotten to be a great victim of the bowel trouble which made it necessary for him to be continually taking different kinds of laxatives and strong physics in order to obtain the slightest relief from his troubles. He was also troubled with his kidneys which broke his rest several times each night and he stated above the rheumatism settled in his joints, forcing him to use a cane. He had tried numerous kinds of medicines but was unable to find anything to give him the relief he desired. How Hoyt's quickly ended this well known man's suffering and made it possible for him to walk and get around without the use of his cane is told in Mr. Shirley's complete statement which follows:

"Have been a resident here in Chillicothe for several years," said Mr. Shirley. All of my friends and acquaintances know that during the past 20 years I have suffered intense pain and misery from rheumatism. I carried mail for over 12 years and finally had to give up this work as the rheumatism grew steadily worse. This trouble caused me no end of expense and worry. I was continually taking STRONG PHYSICS but these only seemed to bring relief for the time being and would soon wear off leaving me in a worse condition than before. Kidneys were weak and deranged and broke my rest several times each night causing me to feel tired and worn out and draggy the following day, just as though I had never been to bed. When I kept seeing letters of praise which were received every day here in Chillicothe from people who had taken this great medicine and had gotten relief from it after everything else had failed I knew at once that it must have merit. I can now truthfully say that I am able to get around without the use of my cane and feel better than I have felt during the past 20 years, after taking the Hoyt's Compound. My kidneys are strengthened, bowels are regulated and my appetite is very much improved through the use of this famous prescription and I am glad to be able to endorse it to other sufferers."

Hoyt's Compound is now being introduced and explained every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, Ohio.—Adv.

Valentine's Day Honors Man Who Opposed King's Marriage Ban

By Kathryn St. John

The Valentine festival appears to be a day of fun, dedicated to the little fellow with the bow and arrow whom we call "Dan Cupid."

It is generally believed that the day was named for St. Valentine, known as "the lovers' saint." Valentine was a priest, who, when he learned of the ban placed on marriage by Emperor Claudius, invited young lovers to come to him to be secretly married. Valentine was seized when he was discovered and thrown into prison where he died.

The young people of Rome, for whom he gave his life, very prettily named the day in his honor.

During the Middle Ages, the peasantry used to assemble on the evening before Valentine's Day and draw names by chance. These names were written on slips called "valentines" and the person whose name was on the slip became the holder's sweetheart for the year.

Thus grew the custom of exchanging pretty sentiments on Valentine's Day.

Clover Biscuits
2 cups pastry flour 3 tbs. fat
3 tbs. baking powder 3 tbs. evaporated milk diluted with water
1 tsp. salt 1/2 cup water
Sift flour, then measure. Resift with other dry ingredients into mixing bowl. Rub fat in with fingers until appearance is like coarse corn meal. Add diluted milk and mix quickly with a fork. Stir until flour disappears and then add 4 or 5 stirs to smooth and slightly stiffen the dough. Turn immediately onto a thoroughly floured board. Pat dough out with hand, or roll to three-fourths inch thickness. Cut with a small cutter 1 inch in diameter. Place together in threes on an oiled tin far enough apart not to come together in baking. Bake in a hot oven (425° F. to 450° F.). About 12

Pineapple Milk Sherbet
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk 1 cup water
1 cup sugar 2 tbs. lemon juice
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
Four chilled evaporated milk in ice cream can. Add sugar, salt, water and lemon juice to pineapple, then add pineapple mixture slowly to the milk. Freeze. Yield: 1 1/2 qts. or 12 servings.

White Cake
1 1/2 cups cake flour 1/2 cup egg whites
4 tbs. baking powder 2 tbs. evaporated milk diluted with water
1/4 tsp. salt 6 tbs. water
1/4 cup butter 1/2 tsp. lemon extract
1 cup white fat 1/2 tsp. almond extract
1 cup sugar
Sift flour, then measure. Resift twice, with baking powder and salt. Cream fats until soft, then add sugar and cream until white and smooth. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat until mixture has the appearance of softened marshmallow. Add dry ingredients and diluted milk, then the flavoring. Bake in a square or rectangular pan lined with paraffin paper at 350°-375° F. When cold cut into small cubes and frost with pink icing. Yield: 24 servings.

Speedy Relief for Sore Throat

Safe Prescription Requires No Gargling.

No longer is it necessary to gargle or to choke with nasty tasting patent medicines or gargles to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a famous doctor's prescription called Thoxine. It has a double action, relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by gargles, salves, and patent medicines.

Thoxine does not contain iron, chloroform or dope, is pleasant-tasting, harmless and safe for the whole family. Also excellent for coughs; stops them almost instantly. Quick relief guaranteed or your money back. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Hamilton & Ryan and all other good drug stores.—Adv.

Men's Defense Conference Topic At Meeting Here

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary met in the Post at Memorial Hall Monday night at a called meeting. Mrs. Ward Jones gave a very interesting address, telling her experiences while attending the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense which was held in the Memorial Continental Hall at Washington, D. C., on January, 29, and 31.

Mrs. Jones who is the American Legion chairman of the Auxiliary for the Department of Ohio, presented this department, taking the place of Mrs. E. E. Moore, state president.

Mrs. Jones told of the purpose of the conference and how every speaker urged the representatives present to take home to their units the message that no one with any foresight whatever could ask that their country be prepared for war. The speaker all spoke in favor of the cruiser bill and told of the terrible condition the United States was in at the outbreak of the World War and how if a war should be declared again practically the same condition would exist.

In their opinion the only way to prevent war is to be prepared for it.

Mrs. Jones will give her report to the Department headquarters at the next departmental conference, and she is also preparing to give addresses to other organizations upon the subject of National Defense.

The speakers for the occasion include Col. Paul V. McNutt, National commander, American Legion, Mrs. Boyce Ficklen, Jr., National President, American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, President General, Daughters of the American Revolution, Hon. Frederick Steiwer, U. S. Senator from Oregon and a member of the Senate Naval Affairs committee, Col. C. B. Robbins, Assistant Secretary of War, Hon. Florence P. Kahn, U. S. Representative from California and a member of the House Military Affairs committee, Hon. David A. Reed, U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania and a member of the Senate committee on immigration, Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, U. S. Navy, retired, Hon. Daniel F. Steck, U. S. Senator from Iowa and a member of the Senate Military Affairs committee.

Thirty-eight Women's patriotic organizations were represented at this conference. The American Legion Auxiliary had 233 representatives present.

Among those organizations represented were the American Gold Star Mothers, American War Mothers, Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, the National Women's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Jones was also present at the National Defense Conference Dinner, in the Rose Room at the Washington Hotel, given by the 40 et 8 and the auxiliary 8 et 40, honoring the National Commander of the American Legion, the National President, American Legion Auxiliary, La. Society National Forty et Eight, Le Chapeau National Eight et Forty and other National officers. The music for this dinner was furnished by the U. S. Army orchestra.

FOOD MEETING HELD AT MRS. MAST'S

There were seventeen members present at the last meeting of the cooking lessons which was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mast on the Ringgold Pike. Mrs. J. M. Westenhaver lead the lesson, assisted by Mrs. B. F. Courtwright. The lesson dealt with cottage cheese and meat dishes.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS WITH DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Culp had as their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lesher, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lesher and children, Carl and Mary Mae of Adelphia, Mr. Charles Lesher, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis N. Culp of this city.

HOME FROM VISIT WITH RENOWNED COUSIN

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan who live at 116 Pinckney-st., have recently returned from Washington, D. C., where they visited a first cousin of Mrs. Cowan, the honorable William P. Kent.

Mr. Kent was recently elected to head the William and Mary alumni club, of Washington. This was announced recently in the last issue of "The Flat Hat" of the College of William and Mary. Mr. Kent is widely known in American diplomatic circles and had a distinguished career abroad before retiring to his home in Washington. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa from William and Mary, being initiated in 1927. Mr. Kent is a native of Wytheville. Dr. Cowan is surgeon for the railroad.

UNUSUAL INTEREST SHOWN IN PARTY

The bridge playing men of Circleville will have a splendid opportunity Monday night to display some of their suppressed talent, at the Red Cross benefit party to be given on the 11th at the Memorial Hall. Up to this time most of the men have felt that these card parties would not interest them, but from reports so far, the men seem to have a chance of being in the majority.

There will be tables occupied by bridge club members, by neighbors, couples of husbands and wives, and some of the players of the famous C. A. C. groups. Every one is welcome. There will be a door prize and a number of table prizes.

Reservations can be made with Mrs. Orion King, Mrs. Harry D. Jackson, Mrs. Glenn Nuckerson, Mrs. Arthur Wiegand, Mrs. B. T. Hedges, Joe Lynch and Bryce Briggs.

SURPRISE DINNER FOR MRS. HANCOCK

Sunday, February 3 was picked as the day to surprise Mrs. W. E. Hancock. About noon, quite a number of her friends and relatives gathered at the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hancock of Atlanta to remind Mrs. Hancock that Feb. 7th was her birthday. All came with baskets filled for the dinner. Those to enjoy the occasion with the Hancocks were: Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Brooks and daughter Una, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Crawford and daughter Martha Elida and son John Edward of Orient, Mr. and Mrs. Amor Hancock of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Ater and daughters Lois Madge and Phyllis Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ater and daughter Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ater and son Eugene of Atlanta, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Warner, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoskins and son William Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Willard Evans and son Wendell, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jennings of New Holland.

Al departed in the evening wishing Mrs. Hancock many more happy birthdays.

LADIES SOCIETY IS POSTPONED

The ladies society of the Trinity Lutheran church will be postponed one week because of the death of John Goeller, Jr.

QUESTS INVITED FOR LUNCHEON

Miss Harriett Marfield and Miss Mary Marfield will entertain with a luncheon Wednesday February 6. The guests have been invited for one o'clock.

DIVERSE SUBJECTS IN FINE MEETING

The Nature Study division of the Monday club had charge of Monday night's meeting. The interesting topics of the different papers included "Honey and Money," and "The Insect with the Highest Intelligence Quotient." There was also a most entertaining account of agricultural development in Alaska.

Robert Brehmer gave a fine address on the local stream pollution problem.

Miss Florence Hoffman read a paper prepared by Miss Clara Littleton on "Nature's Cleverest Mechanics," in which the types of bees, their various styles of nests and their methods of building were discussed. "Honey and Money" was the topic dealt with by Mrs. R. R. Bales. She explained how honey was manufactured from nectar gathered by the busy bees from various plants—each plant giving a certain kind of honey. To make one pound of honey containing 1485 calories some 160,000 bees are employed. Bee-keeping is a growing and interesting industry in this country. A most interesting exhibit was shown belonging to Mr. Carl Hurst of Williamsport. Mr. Hurst has won many prizes with his fine honey, seven types of which were displayed.

The last paper was read by Miss Jeannette Reichelderfer on "The Insect with the Highest I. Q." Miss Reichelderfer explained that which scientists refuse to admit and therefore have an intelligence quotient. Nevertheless they do admit that the ant has the most highly specialized instinct of all insects. She told of the characteristics of five kinds of ants: The stinging, the wandering or normal ants, the harvester, the long-necked and the hump-backed ants.

A brief account given by Mrs. Charles Gerhardt of the work of Dr. Joedson in Alaska completed the program. Joedson has worked wonders with the agriculture of that country and has by years of patient and intelligent labor produced crops that will give bumper yields in the season of less than one hundred frost-free days.

In the interest of the conservation committee of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs which is working against stream pollution Mr. Robert Brehmer addressed the Monday Club last night. This committee with Mrs. R. R. Bales as local chairman, is anxious to interest the public in the great need for purifying the rivers and streams. Mr. Brehmer told how all water sports have been ruined and how vegetation and fish have been killed by the spread of raw sewage from Columbus in this part of the Scioto river. Thirty million gallons of sewage are daily released from Columbus. Of this amount only one-fifth can be properly treated by the present disposal plant so that eighty per cent is turned into the river to cause death and destruction as far as thirty miles away.

If pressure is brought to bear by an interested public upon the proper officials this menace can be cleared up and the river made a beautiful part of our vicinity.

When members of the American Legion Auxiliary met in the Post room at Memorial Hall Monday evening at a called meeting, Mrs. Howard Jones gave a very interesting address, telling her experiences while attending the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense which was held in the Memorial Continental Hall at Washington, D. C., on January, 29, 30 and 31.

Mrs. Jones who is the Americanization chairman of the Auxiliary for the Department of Ohio, represented this department, taking the place of Mrs. E. E. Moore, the state president.

Mrs. Jones told of the purpose of the conference and how every speaker urged the representatives present to take home to their unit members the message that no one with any foresight whatever would ask that their country be unprepared for war. The speakers all spoke in favor of the senate cruiser bill and told of the

End ALL Dandruff in 5 Minutes!

Yes, you can dissolve every particle of dandruff in a few moments' time—with Danderine. Leaving your scalp as pink and white and clean as any child's!

So many hair and scalp disorders yield to the first few drops of Danderine! Thousands use it to prevent hair falling out. Fully a million owe the silky softness of their hair to its gentle invigoration. Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave. Why experiment with anything else, when Danderine is not surpassed even as a dressing?

HOME FROM VISIT WITH RENOWNED COUSIN

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan who live at 116 Pinckney-st., have recently returned from Washington, D. C., where they visited a first cousin of Mrs. Cowan, the honorable William P. Kent.

Mr. Kent was recently elected to head the William and Mary alumni club, of Washington. This was announced recently in the last issue of "The Flat Hat" of the College of William and Mary.

Mr. Kent is widely known in American diplomatic circles and had a distinguished career abroad before retiring to his home in Washington. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa from William and Mary, being initiated in 1927. Mr. Kent is a native of Wytheville. Dr. Cowan is surgeon for the railroad.

UNUSUAL INTEREST SHOWN IN PARTY

The bridge playing men of Circleville will have a splendid opportunity Monday night to display some of their suppressed talent, at the Red Cross benefit party to be given on the 11th at the Memorial Hall. Up to this time most of the men have felt that these card parties would not interest them, but from reports so far, the men seem to have a chance of being in the majority.

There will be tables occupied by bridge club members, by neighbors, couples of husbands and wives, and some of the players of the famous C. A. C. groups. Every one is welcome. There will be a door prize and a number of table prizes.

GUESTS INVITED FOR LUNCHEON

Miss Harriett Marfield and Miss Mary Marfield will entertain with a luncheon Wednesday February 6. The guests have been invited for one o'clock.

DIVERSE SUBJECTS IN FINE MEETING

The Nature Study division of the Monday club had charge of Monday night's meeting. The interesting topics of the different papers included "Honey and Money," and "The Insect with the Highest Intelligence Quotient." There was also a most entertaining account of agricultural development in Alaska.

Robert Brehmer gave a fine address, on the local stream pollution problem.

Miss Florence Hoffman read a paper prepared by Miss Clara Littleton on "Nature's Cleverest Mechanics," in which the types of bees, their various styles of nests and their methods of building were discussed. "Honey and Money" was the topic dealt with by Mrs. R. R. Bales. She explained how honey was manufactured from nectar gathered by the busy bees from various plants—each plant giving a certain kind of honey. To make one pound of honey containing 1485 calories some 160,000 bees are employed. Bee-keeping is a growing and paying industry in this country. A most interesting exhibit was
